David O. Brown
Chief Of Police

Outline

- Historical background
- Overview
- Goals of Community Policing 2.0
- Officer Training
- Response Time

What is Community Policing 2.0?

- Implemented Fall 2011 and each year thereafter through 2013.
- DPD's efforts to keep all officers connected to the community through front line fundamental police work in the Patrol Bureau.
- Patrol Bureau receives additional officers and sergeants from non-patrol bureau positions within the department to assist with call answering.
- CP 2.0 officers work for two consecutive weeks at one of the seven Patrol Bureau divisions which they select during the CP 2.0 bid process.
- Recent revision allows up to five officers to work the Communications Division at the Phone Expeditor's desk addressing Priority 3 and 4 calls.

Community Policing 2.0 Goals

- To assist and improve all seven Patrol Bureau divisions' response times to Priority 1, 2, 3, and 4 calls.
- With 911 call loads managed more effectively (calls not pending to be dispatched), current patrol officers have more time for proactive/self-initiated enforcement work.
- Proactive enforcement activities focused on high crime areas (typically TAAGs) is the most effective manner to reduce violent and property crime.

Who Participates in CP 2.0?

- All non-patrol bureau officers at the rank of sergeant and below.

Current CP 2.0 bid exemptions:

- Light Duty Personnel
- Restricted Duty Personnel
- Narcotics Division
- Vice Unit (Limited)
- Love Field Unit
- Metro Unit
- Gang Unit
- Traffic Unit – Temporarily Exempt

When does CP 2.0 Occur?

- The first half of 2016, the two week CP 2.0 rotations were scheduled to start February 8th, February 22nd, March 7th, March 21st, April 4th, April 18th, and May 2nd.
- CP 2.0 officers are scheduled to work 4:00 p.m. – 12:00 a.m.
- 3rd Watch hours are typically highest for 9-1-1 call load and violent crime.
- The second half of 2016, May 16th – August 28th are under consideration for rotation start dates.

Officers' Activity

- Officers assigned to CP 2.0 perform a number of functions during their assigned periods:
 - 911 call response in the field
 - Station security (allowing patrol officers to resume regular patrol duties)
 - Paddy wagon (prisoner transport) duties
 - Communications Division Phone Service Expeditor – working on Priority 3 and 4 calls
 - Communications Division Service Desk
- CP 2.0 officers responded to 5,128 calls for police service and made 95 felony arrests through March 18, 2016.

Summary

- Recent analysis showed 54% of violent crime occurred during 3rd watch hours.
- Violent crimes such as shootings, cuttings, family violence assaults, and robberies of businesses and individuals require more officers and time to address than other types of 911 calls.
- Manpower need is compounded by spikes in 911 call loads during 3rd watch hours.
- CP 2.0 officers have provided a much needed boost to Patrol Bureau manpower during critical 3rd watch hours.
- Going forward, the need to incorporate CP 2.0 officers into patrol duties will remain in order to continue DPD's effort to connect to the community, reduce 911 call response times, and reduce crime.

Communications Operations Center (Handling Calls for Service)

Public Safety Committee

March 28, 2016

Overview

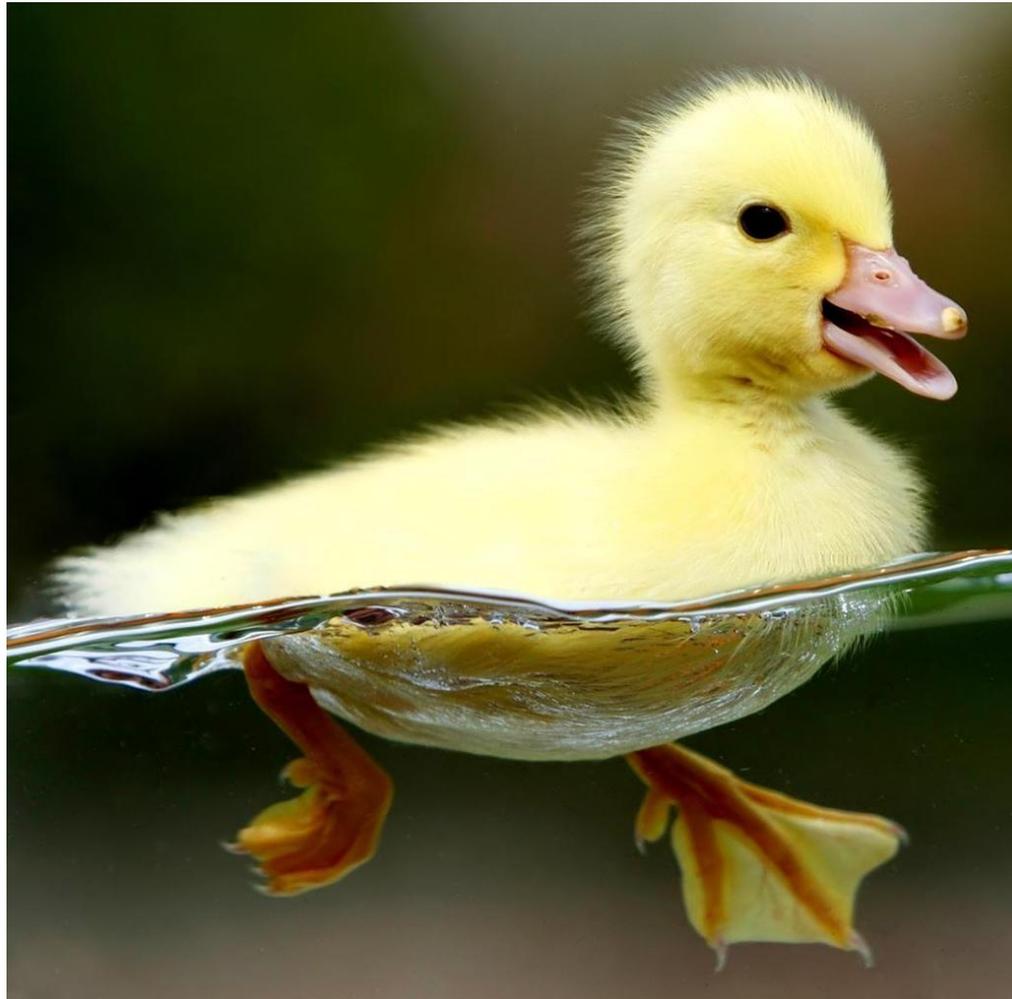

- Police Communications Services Section
- 911 Call for Service Process
- Response Time Facts
- Quality Customer Service
- Summary

Police Communications Services Section

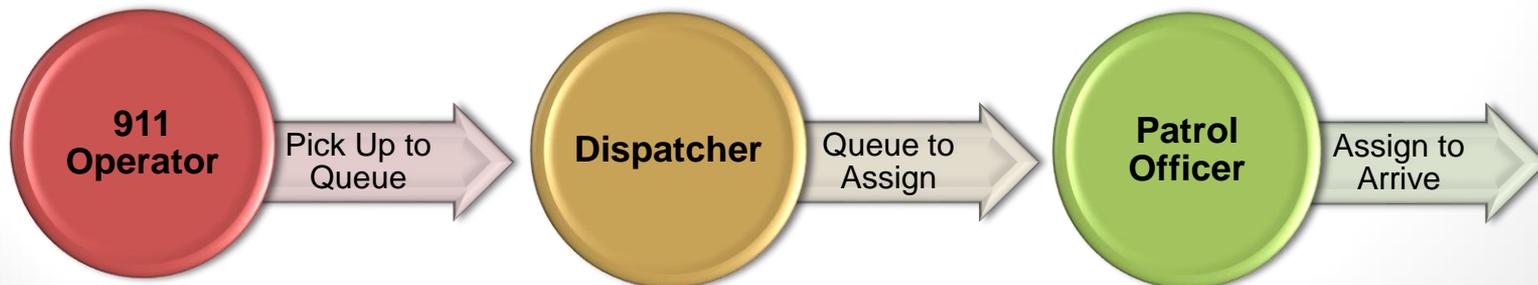

- Consist of 911 Operators, Police Dispatchers and Police Report Representatives
- Act as liaisons between citizens calling for Police/Fire services and patrol officers
- Prioritize 911 calls based on information provided by caller and create calls for service
- Dispatch patrol officers to calls for service
- Provide officers with updated call information and additional resources

Perception

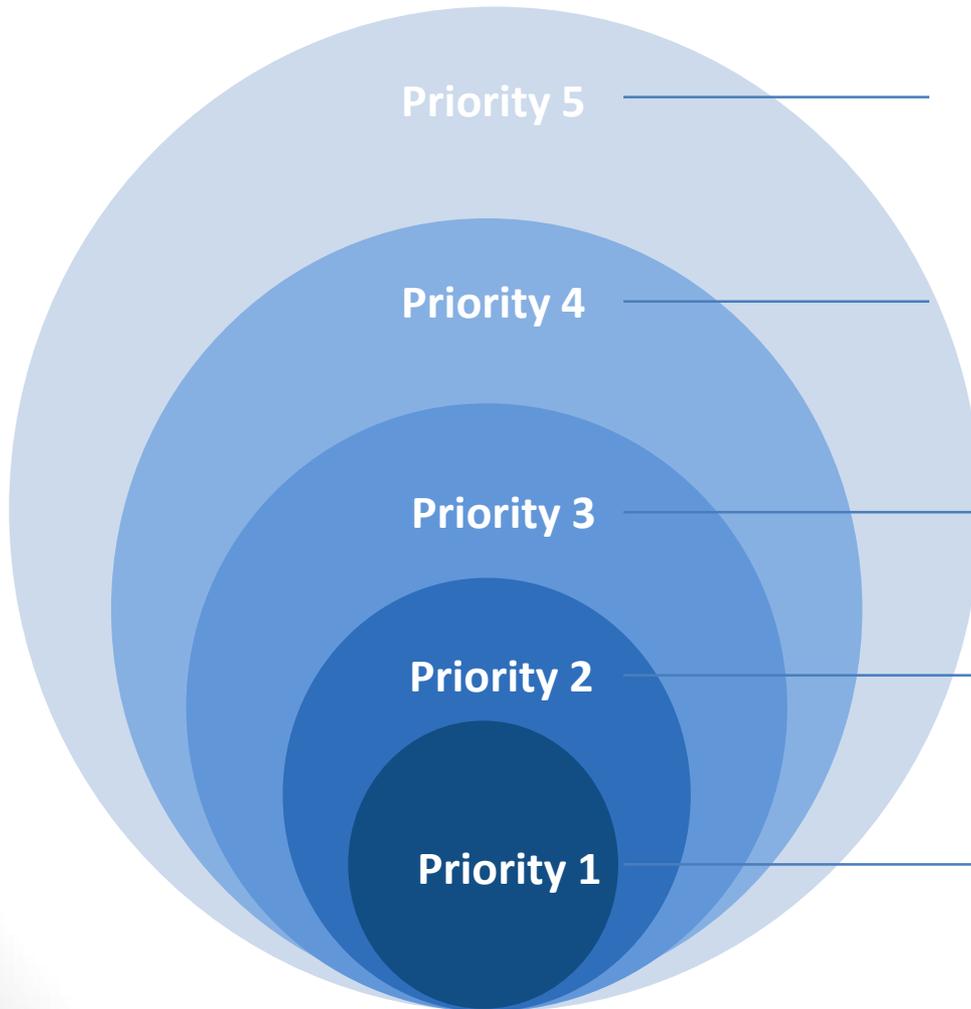

The Process

- The process of a 911 call for service is a concerted effort by the:
 - 911 Operator
 - Police Dispatcher
 - Responding Patrol Officer
- Calls are prioritized based on information provided at the time of the call

Call Priority System

Telephone Service Calls*

Ex. Lost Property, Theft from Person or Service, Criminal Mischief, Want to Locate or Non-Critical Missing Person

Non-Critical Calls

Goal – 60 Minutes or Less

Ex. Disturbance (Loud Music), Theft, Burglary (Unknown when occurred), Animal Complaints, Criminal Mischief, Panhandling

General Services Calls

Goal – 30 Minutes or Less

Missing Person, Intoxicated Person, Drug House, Burglary (recent)

Prompt Calls

Goal – 12 Minutes or Less

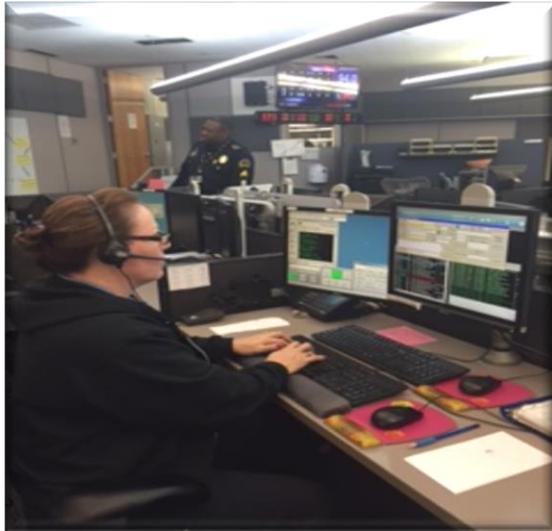

Ex. Robbery, Fire, Criminal Assault

Emergency Calls

Goal – 8 Minutes or Less

Ex. Shooting, Cutting, Disturbance Active Shooter Foot, Kidnapping in Progress

911 Operator

- Receives and triages calls to determine call priority
- Creates call sheet and inputs information into Computer Aided Dispatch System
- Calls electronically routed to dispatch queue
- 911 Operator Constraints:
 - Time spent gathering information
 - Caller unintelligible
 - Location unknown
 - Type of Call – priority 1 calls are 2 part
 - 2015 - 2,108,951 911 calls answered

Police Dispatcher

- Call sheet populated into dispatch queue
- Dispatch time starts
- Dispatcher locates and assigns available patrol officer(s)
- Dispatcher Constraints:
 - Officer(s) availability
 - Number of officers needed based on type of call (mental health calls, major incidents)
 - 2015 - 606,541 calls dispatched

Patrol Officer

- Acknowledges and responds to call(s)
- Travel time starts
- Travel Time Constraints:
 - Traffic/Road Conditions/Time of day
 - Weather
 - Officer flagged down
 - Officer diverted to higher priority call

Response Time Facts

- Providing estimated time of arrival (ETA) is a challenge due to the consequences faced should the ETA not be met
- No national standard for police response times, each agency is unique based on geography, demographics and strategic goals of the department
- DPD's Response Time Goals were established in 2007
- DPD's emphasis on crime reduction and quality customer service has an unintended effect on response times to 911 calls

Customer Service

- While response times are important, quality of service typically leaves a lasting, positive impression
- Officers are not rushing into critical incident calls (mental health) - waiting on cover and utilizing training to handle such calls
- Officers are spending more time on calls to provide a better customer service experience
- The National Institute of Justice (NIJ) notes investigations, problem solving and careful forensic evidence collection contribute more to arresting suspects than initial response times

Customer Service

- Results in more 911 calls for service (number of 911 calls versus number of offenses)
- Results in fewer calls answered per officer and longer wait times for officer response to 911 calls

Summary

- Quality or quantity?
- Slowing down instead of rushing into critical incident scenarios promotes greater officer and citizen safety
- Critical incident calls require more manpower, which in turn ties up more officers to handle each call
- Officers are called upon to answer more non-police calls than in the past 24/7
- Response times can be improved with the addition of police resources available to respond to calls
